

Russian Parliament Threatened the Kyrgyzstan the Fate of Ukraine

News:

First Deputy Chairman of the State Duma Committee on International Affairs Svetlana Zhurova commented on the statement of the Speaker of the Parliament of Kyrgyzstan Nurlan Shakiev, who at the national congress called for the urgent renaming of all Russian districts of Bishkek, as well as the names of individual settlements of the country. “Surely, for the time being, there will probably be requests from our side not to do this, because this will undoubtedly violate the rights of Russian people in Kyrgyzstan, many of whom live there. Our connection will be lost in this way. And then the next stage is schools, and then some more, and it will be like in Georgia, when young people, unfortunately, practically do not speak Russian. We know that in Ukraine it also began with this. time for people to slowly understand that they will no longer speak Russian”, - the deputy told reporters.

She also expressed the opinion that this issue will be discussed at the highest state level. “Perhaps they will report to Vladimir Vladimirovich, he will make some remark to his colleague, the President of Kyrgyzstan”, - Zhurova noted.

Recall that Bishkek is divided into Pervomaisky, Sverdlovsky, Oktyabrsky and Leninsky districts, which the Kyrgyz deputies insist on renaming.

Comment:

Russian colonial domination over Kyrgyzstan has reached such a level that even in such a difficult period for Russia, the deputies of its parliament allow themselves such harsh statements without receiving any reaction from Bishkek. This indicates a complete lack of will in Zhaparov and his regime; they only obediently carry out orders from Moscow, having neither honor nor self-esteem.

A vivid example of the unquestioning execution of Moscow's orders by the Zhaparov regime is the scale of repressions that he has recently unleashed against members of Islamic movements, in particular against members of Hizb ut Tahrir, and even women. Almost every week, the Kyrgyz security forces noisily report on the capture of another “amir” of the party, obviously taking reports from searches according to the Russian manual. Japarov, who positioned himself in the elections as a pro-Islamic candidate, is now doing exactly the opposite of what he promised. He and his colleague Tashiev destroy their people for the sake of Russian contentment. However, the history of Kyrgyzstan shows that every president whose power relies on Russia is doomed in the end. It will either eventually be thrown out as waste material, as was the case with a great lover of Russia Atambaev, or Russia itself will collapse and it will drag all its agents to the bottom, signs of which we can observe today.
