

Turkey's Presidential Elections are the beginning of the end of the Era of Deception

(Translated)

News:

On June 24, Turks in Turkey will face a date of presidential and legislative elections, in which the president aims to turn the regime into a presidential system. According to opinion polls of institutions close to the Ankara government, between 45 and 55 percent will vote for President Rajab Tayyip Erdogan. The opposition has no neutral environment for holding elections, as Hakan Berkji (chairman of the opposition Sonar) said. The Turkish authorities have established a climate of "fear" in the country. In light of this, 10 percent of those polled refuse to say who will vote for In the next election. Berkigi accuses the village sites From the government to provide erroneous results to influence the results of Sunday's elections. (DW)

Comment:

Democracy has been manipulating the public opinion, and so has happened in the preparations for the elections in Turkey. Erdogan and his party have played on the legacy of the Ottomans and have been glorified by their glorious glory. They are from him and from his party free. Before that, Erdogan has made false victories, such as his victory in Efreem (In fact it is betrayal to Allah and His Messenger and the believers), and the suppression of all his opponents (the remnants of the British colonialists of the secular, and the real loyal opponents of the proponents of the Khilafah (Caliphate) on the method of prophecy), and he deceived people that he had risen economically (Internal riba, after he transformed the country's external debt to internal debt of local banks and increased by additional debts), and not the last "victories" inflation in the exchange rate of the Turkish lira!

Thus, Erdogan and his party created an atmosphere of elections in Turkey, a climate of deceit and terror, and put people between two options; either to be secularists professing disbelief, or secular wear the cloak of religion and the greatness of the Ottoman dignitaries. Were it not for the lack of clarity in the right way of thinking about people, the absence of the right choice and the suppression of their calls, there would be no luck for the success of both teams, but because of the disease that affected the way people think and spread in the world (the pragmatic way of thinking), the choice of people in Turkey will not be a result of their faith, nor a real reflection of their will and what they wish for their country and their nation!

The prospect of Erdogan and his coalition succeeding in the elections does not mean there is no public opinion among the people of Turkey on Islam and governance by it, but the opposite is true; If there weren't a presence of public opinion on Islam and the love and passion of the people to be roled by what Allah revealed, then why did he and his coalition succeed in any elections simply just by embracing Islam and the public opinion on Islam.

It is not but a matter of time, until Allah grants upon the faithful ones the Khilafah, by the support of the 'ahul quwah walmanah' (People of power and protection) in the Turkish army or in other Muslim armies that enable them to nominate themselves for the Ummah and who take allegiance from the satisfaction and good-hearted ones, then the glory of the nation will return as it was during the Khilafah Rashidah after the death of al-Mustafa (peace be upon him), the Umayyads, Abbasids and Ottomans.

﴿وَمَنْ يَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى اللَّهِ فَهُوَ حَسْبُهُ إِنَّ اللَّهَ بَالِغُ أَمْرِهِ قَدْ جَعَلَ اللَّهُ لِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدْرًا﴾

“...And whoever relies upon Allah - then He is sufficient for him. Indeed, Allah will accomplish His purpose. Allah has already set for everything a [decreed] extent.” [65:3]
