The Dawn Exposes the Darkness of Night Revealing the Truth of the Anglo-American Colonial Struggle Over Sudan

(Translated)

In response to Britain's agents within the Coordination Committee attempting to establish what they called a "government-in-exile" to position themselves as contenders against America's agents for control of Sudan, following the failure of the Framework Agreement, the U.S. Special Envoy to Sudan, Tom Perriello, commented on Saturday, December 7, 2024, on Platform X: "The United States is deeply concerned about reports of certain Sudanese factions and individuals advocating for the declaration of new, unilaterally declared governing structures in Sudan. Such an action would be profoundly destabilizing for the region and risk fragmenting Sudan."

The signs and evidence of the intense Anglo-American colonial struggle over Sudan—represented on the ground by military and civilian agents—have become abundant and unmistakable to all but those who shut their minds, harden their hearts, and deafen their ears.

It has become evident that America, which ignited the war in Sudan to thwart the Framework Agreement and oust Britain's civilian agents from power, is adamant about preventing them from playing any political role in Sudan. However, Britain continues to weave conspiracies and organize successive conferences to re-enter the political scene after its agents were sidelined by military leaders.

Here we see the American envoy expressing frustration over the Taqaddum movement's activities in Entebbe, Uganda. Meanwhile, Egypt, under American guidance, announced through its Foreign Minister, Badr Abdelatty, the convening of a conference. This comes against the backdrop of the Montreux Conference, held in Geneva at the invitation of the Swiss Ministry of Foreign Affairs and under the sponsorship of the French organization Promediation. Britain's agents sought through this conference to create an opening for the revival of the Framework Agreement—the very spark that ignited the war.

It is a blatant international struggle, shamelessly carried out through local agents who have burned the country, humiliated its people, and inflicted suffering through displacement, refuge, rapes, and looting—all to serve the agendas of the colonialist disbelievers. May Allah curse them, how they are deluded!

Events have come full circle, with reports confirming and validating the political vision presented by Hizb ut Tahrir. This vision provides an insightful and enlightened understanding of the reality of this war and the international struggle over Sudan. This conflict will not cease until a principled state establishes Islam and implements its laws—a Khilafah Rashidah (rightly guided Caliphate) on the method of the Prophethood, as promised by Allah Almighty and the glad tidings by His Prophet (saw), who emphasized its establishment when he said: «فَأَنَّهُ مَن يَحْسُنْ» "Verily he among you who lives long will see great controversy, so you must keep to my Sunnah and to the Sunnah of the Khulafa ar-Rashideen (the rightly guided caliphs), those who guide to the right way. Cling to it stubbornly [literally: with your molar teeth]."
